About the exam

B1 Preliminary for Schools is a rigorous and thorough test of English at Level B1. It covers all four language skills – reading, writing, listening and speaking.

A thorough test of all areas of language ability

There are four papers: detailed information on each test paper is provided later in this handbook, but the overall focus of each test is as follows:

Reading: 45 minutes

Candidates need to be able to understand the main points from signs, newspapers and magazines and use vocabulary and structures correctly.

Writing: 45 minutes

Candidates need to be able to respond to an email and to write either an article or a story.

Listening: 30 minutes (approximately)

Candidates need to show they can follow and understand a range of spoken materials including announcements and discussions about everyday life.

Speaking: 10–12 minutes (pairs) / 15–17 minutes (groups of three)

Candidates take the Speaking test with another candidate or in a group of three. They are tested on their ability to take part in different types of interaction: with the examiner, with the other candidate and by themselves.

Each of the four test components contributes to a profile which defines the candidate's overall communicative language ability at this level.

Preparing learners

Advice for teachers

Writers use the inventory of grammatical areas and the vocabulary list when preparing tasks so they are suitable for learners at B1 level, the level of B1 Preliminary for Schools.

Whenever possible, the texts used in the Reading paper are adapted from authentic reading texts. They may include:

- notices and signs (Part 1)
- packaging information (Part 1)
- notes, emails, cards, text messages and postcards (Parts 1, 5, 6)
- newspapers and magazines (Parts 2, 3, 4)
- simplified encyclopaedias and other non-fiction books (Parts 3, 5)
- brochures and leaflets (Parts 2, 3)
- websites (Parts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5).

Teachers may need to adapt texts to make them suitable for B1-level learners. The vocabulary list and the language specifications can help teachers to identify suitable language areas. The vocabulary list is updated annually.

Parents can get more information from the Information for parents page on the Cambridge English website.

Learners can get more information from the Information for candidates guide.

Teachers can find lesson plans and sample papers on the Cambridge English website.

The collage features three sample texts:

- Notice: A notice titled "Hollins Farm Camps" with the text: "No groups of 4 or more unless by previous arrangement".
- Email: An email titled "Students booked on Oxford trip" with the text: "Money for Saturday's trip must be handed in at the school office by Wednesday lunchtime at the latest or you will lose your place."
- Article: A newspaper article titled "Play to win" about a tennis player named Harry.

Arrows point from the text labels "notice", "article", and "email" to their respective sample texts in the collage.

Tips for preparing learners for the Reading paper

- ✓ Give learners a wide range of text types to read, both authentic and adapted. For example, notes and messages on social media websites, information leaflets, graded readers and articles.
- ✓ Help learners practise skimming and scanning both shorter and longer texts. Encourage learners to develop a habit of always skimming a text first to get a general understanding.
- ✓ Give learners practice reading texts with unfamiliar vocabulary, learning to ignore words which are not important for the task.
- ✓ Encourage your learners to read instructions carefully. Ask them to highlight key words by hand, or on the computer using the highlighting tool, and use examples to help them understand what to do.
- ✓ Give learners practice doing timed exercises and exam tasks where they need to manage their own time.
- ✓ Help learners think about the different ways they read texts. For example, if they are reading an information leaflet then ask them to find some specific information. If they are reading a message, ask them to think how they would reply to it.
- ✓ Help your learners to work out the meaning of new words by using the rest of the text. Encourage them not to use a dictionary for every new word.

Completing the digital test

(digital test only)

- All answers are typed directly onto the computer.
- Candidates may take pens and pencils and water in a clear, see-through bottle into the exam room, but nothing else (including bags and anything electronic).
- Candidates should listen carefully to the instructions which the invigilator gives and follow the instructions on the computer screen.
- There is a timer on the screen which tells candidates how much time they have left.
- Candidates may make notes on paper during the exam. They must leave these notes on their desk at the end of the exam.

Completing the answer sheet

(paper-based test only)

- All answers must go on an answer sheet.
- Candidates should use a pencil to complete the answer sheet.
- No additional time is allowed for completing the answer sheet: candidates must do this within the 45 minutes allowed for the test.
- For the Reading component, candidates shade a lozenge on the answer sheet to show their answer for Parts 1–5 and write their answers on the correct part of the answer sheet for Part 6.

Questions 11–15
For each question, choose the correct answer.

Play to win
16-year-old Harry Moore writes about his hobby, tennis.

My parents have always loved tennis and they're members of a tennis club. My older brother was really good at it and they supported him – taking him to lessons all the time. So I guess when I announced that I wanted to be a tennis champion when I grew up I just intended for them to notice me. My mother laughed. She knew I couldn't possibly be serious, I was just a 4-year-old kid!

Later, I joined the club's junior coaching group and eventually took part in my first proper contest, confident that my team would do well. We won, which was fantastic, but I wasn't so successful. I didn't even want to be in the team photo because I didn't feel I deserved to be. When my coach asked what happened in my final match, I didn't know what to say. I couldn't believe I'd lost – I knew I was the better player. But every time I attacked, the other player defended brilliantly. I couldn't explain the result.

After that, I decided to listen more carefully to my coach because he had lots of tips. I realised that you need the right attitude to be a winner. On court I have a plan but sometimes the other guy will do something unexpected so I'll change it. If I lose a point, I do my best to forget it and find a way to win the next one.

At tournaments, it's impossible to avoid players who explode in anger. Lots of players can be negative – including myself sometimes. Once I got so angry that I nearly broke my racket! But my coach has helped me develop ways to control those feelings. After all, the judges have a hard job and you just have to accept their decisions.

My coach demands that I train in the gym to make sure I'm strong right to the end of a tournament. I'm getting good results: my shots are more accurate and I'm beginning to realise that with hard work there's a chance that I could be a champion one day.

11 Harry thinks he said that he was going to be a tennis champion in order to

- please his parents.
- get some attention.
- annoy his older brother.
- persuade people that he was serious.

12 How did Harry feel after his first important competition?

- confused about his defeat.
- proud to be a member of the winning team.
- ashamed of the way he treated another player.
- amazed that he had got so far in the tournament.

13 What does Harry try to remember when he's on the court?

- Don't let the other player surprise you.
- Follow your game plan.
- Respect the other player.
- Don't keep thinking about your mistakes.

14 What does Harry say about his behaviour in tournaments?

THE TASK

- ▶ In Part 3, candidates have a text which expresses an opinion or attitude. There are five multiple-choice questions with four options to choose from.
- ▶ Candidates need to demonstrate they have understood the writer's attitude or opinion, or an opinion quoted by the writer, and both the detailed and global meaning of the text.

HOW TO APPROACH THE TASK

- ▶ Candidates should begin by skimming the text to find out the topic and general meaning.
- ▶ Candidates should then read the text again, much more carefully.
- ▶ It's important to deal with the questions one by one, comparing each option with the text before choosing one.
- ▶ Candidates should carefully re-check their choice of answer with the text.
- ▶ Questions 11, 12, 13 and 14 follow the order of information in the text.

Questions 16–20

Five sentences have been removed from the text below. For each question, choose the correct answer. There are three extra sentences which you do not need to use.

Planting trees

by Mark Rotherham, aged 13

This spring, our teacher suggested we should get involved in a green project and plant some trees around the school. Everyone thought it was a great idea, so we started looking online for the best trees to buy. If we wanted them to grow properly, they had to be the right type – but there were so many different ones available! So our teacher suggested that we should look for trees that grew naturally in our part of the world. They'd also be more suitable for the wildlife here.

Then we had to think about the best place for planting the trees. We learnt that trees are happiest where they have room to grow, with plenty of space for their branches. The trees might get damaged close to the school playgrounds, for example. Finally, we found a quiet corner close to the school garden – perfect!

Once we'd planted the trees, we knew we had to look after them carefully. We all took turns to check the leaves regularly and make sure they had no strange spots or marks on them. And we decided to check the following spring in case the leaves turned yellow too soon, as that could also mean the tree was sick.

We all knew that we wouldn't be at the school anymore by the time the trees grew tall, and that was a bit sad. But we'd planted the trees to benefit not only the environment, but also future students at the school. And that thought really cheered us up!

This car runs on chocolate!

Scientists have built a 300kph racing car that uses chocolate as a fuel! The project is to show how car-making could environmentally friendly. The car meets all racing car apart from its fuel. This is a mixture of waste chocolate and vegetable oil, and such 'biofuels' are not in the sport yet. It has to be mixed with normal fuel so that all parts of the car keep working.

Carrots and other root vegetables were used to make some parts inside and outside the car. Even the mirrors are made from potatoes! The sides of the car a mixture of natural materials from plants as well as other recycled materials.

The project is still young, so the scientists have not yet found out how 'green' the car is. They are planning many experiments to compare its against that of normal racing cars.

Our new skatepark!

by Jack Fletcher

Is there a great skatepark in your town? We've now got the fantastic skatepark ever, and it's all because of my friends and me!

Our old skatepark was full of broken equipment, so none of us ever went there. But we all agreed that we had a better skatepark in our town, we'd use it. And teenagers might come other towns to join us, too.

So I set up an online questionnaire to find out local people wanted. I asked them whether we should improve our old skatepark build a completely new one. People voted to build a new one.

Then we held some events to get money to pay for it. In the end we collected half the cost, and the local council paid the rest. It finally finished last month. So come and try it – you'll have a great time!

Questions 11 – 15

For each question, choose the correct answer.

16-year-old Harry Moore writes about his hobby, tennis.

My parents have always loved tennis and they're members of a tennis club. My older brother was really good at it and they supported him – taking him to lessons all the time. So I guess when I announced that I wanted to be a tennis champion when I grew up I just intended for them to notice me. My mother laughed. She knew I couldn't possibly be serious, I was just a 4-year-old kid!

Later, I joined the club's junior coaching group and eventually took part in my first proper contest, confident that my team would do well. We won, which was fantastic, but I wasn't so successful. I didn't even want to be in the team photo because I didn't feel I deserved to be. When my coach asked what happened in my final match, I didn't know what to say. I couldn't believe I'd lost – I knew I was the better player. But every time I attacked, the other player defended brilliantly. I couldn't explain the result.

After that, I decided to listen more carefully to my coach because he had lots of tips. I realised that you need the right attitude to be a winner. On court I have a plan but sometimes the other guy will do something unexpected so I'll change it. If I lose a point, I do my best to forget it and find a way to win the next one.

At tournaments, it's impossible to avoid players who explode in anger. Lots of players can be negative – including myself sometimes. Once I got so angry that I nearly broke my racket! But my coach has helped me develop ways to control those feelings. After all, the judges have a hard job and you just have to accept their decisions.

My coach demands that I train in the gym to make sure I'm strong right to the end of a tournament. I'm getting good results: my shots are more accurate and I'm beginning to realise that with hard work there's a chance that I could be a champion one day.

11 Harry thinks he said that he was going to be a tennis champion in order to

- A please his parents.
- B get some attention.
- C annoy his older brother.
- D persuade people that he was serious.

12 How did Harry feel after his first important competition?

- A confused about his defeat.
- B proud to be a member of the winning team.
- C ashamed of the way he treated another player.
- D amazed that he had got so far in the tournament.

13 What does Harry try to remember when he's on the court?

- A Don't let the other player surprise you.
- B Follow your game plan.
- C Respect the other player.
- D Don't keep thinking about your mistakes.

14 What does Harry say about his behaviour in tournaments?

- A He broke his racket once when he was angry.
- B He stays away from players who behave badly.
- C He tries to keep calm during the game.
- D He found it difficult to deal with one judge's decisions.

15 What might a sports journalist write about Harry now?

- A Harry needs to believe in his own abilities and stop depending on good luck when he plays.

- B Harry has really grown up since his first tournament and discovered that tennis is a battle of minds not just rackets.

- C Harry looked exhausted when he finished his last match so maybe he should think about working out.

- D Harry could be a great player but he needs to find a coach to take him all the way to the big competitions.

Part 4

Questions 16 – 20

Five sentences have been removed from the text below. For each question, choose the correct answer. There are three extra sentences which you do not need to use.

Planting trees

by Mark Rotherham, aged 13

This spring, our teacher suggested we should get involved in a green project and plant some trees around the school. Everyone thought it was a great idea, so we started looking online for the best trees to buy. 16 If we wanted them to grow properly, they had to be the right type – but there were so many different ones available! So our teacher suggested that we should look for trees that grew naturally in our part of the world. 17 They'd also be more suitable for the wildlife here.

Then we had to think about the best place for planting the trees. We learnt that trees are happiest where they have room to grow, with plenty of space for their branches. The trees might get damaged close to the school playgrounds, for example. 18 Finally, we found a quiet corner close to the school garden – perfect!

Once we'd planted the trees, we knew we had to look after them carefully. We all took turns to check the leaves regularly and make sure they had no strange spots or marks on them. 19 And we decided to check the following spring in case the leaves turned yellow too soon, as that could also mean the tree was sick.

We all knew that we wouldn't be at the school anymore by the time the trees grew tall, and that was a bit sad. But we'd planted the trees to benefit not only the environment, but also future students at the school. 20 And that thought really cheered us up!

- A So we tried to avoid areas where students were very active.
- B However, our parents did offer to help with the digging!
- C That could mean the tree had a disease.
- D But we soon found that choosing trees was quite complicated.
- E It can be quite good for young trees, though.
- F We knew they'd get as much pleasure from them as we had.
- G But at least we were doing it in the right season.
- H That way, the trees would be used to local conditions.

Carrots and other root vegetables were used to make some parts inside and outside the car. Even the mirrors are made from potatoes! The sides of the car (25) a mixture of natural materials from plants as well as other recycled materials.

The project is still young, so the scientists have not yet found out how 'green' the car is. They are planning many experiments to compare its (26) against that of normal racing cars.

Tips for preparing learners for the Writing test

- ✓ Learners should be very familiar with the writing tasks and their requirements before they take the exam.
- ✓ Learners should aim to write roughly the required number of words. This will ensure that they don't leave out important information (for example, a content point in Part 1), nor that their message becomes unclear by including irrelevant information. In the digital exams the words are counted on the screen. For the paper-based exams learners should practise writing approximately the right amount so they don't waste time counting words.
- ✓ The word length is a guide which learners should aim for.

For email-writing:

- Learners should write to penfriends or online friends regularly.
- Learners should read and notice the organisation of emails, including typical language and phrases used for opening and closing an email.

For article-writing:

- Learners should plan and write short article-like texts regularly, on subjects which interest them.
- Learners should read articles, for example in magazines and on websites. They can use these to identify how article-like texts are organised and what other language features they have.

For story-writing:

- Learners should plan and write short stories regularly, both at home and in class.
- Learners should also read short stories, for example simplified readers in English. They can use these to identify how stories start, develop and end.

Completing the digital test (digital test only)

- There is a timer on the screen which tells candidates how much time they have left.
- Candidates may take pens and pencils and water in a clear, see-through bottle into the exam room, but nothing else (including bags and anything electronic).
- Students should be given timed practice of typing and editing their answers on screen so they are comfortable completing the tasks in the time available.

Completing the answer sheet (paper-based test only)

- The questions are in a booklet. The answers are written in a separate booklet with lined pages.
- Learners must use clear handwriting so that their answers can be read easily. The most important thing is that their handwriting is clear; they can write in upper or lower case, and it does not matter whether their writing is joined up or not.
- Any corrections learners make should be clear so that they can be easily understood and followed.

Part 1 Part 2 0 of 2

THE TASK

- ▶ Candidates must answer this question.
- ▶ They are required to deal with input material of 100–120 words.
- ▶ The input consists of a standard rubric, an email and a set of four prompts presented as notes linked by lines to the appropriate parts of the input email text.
- ▶ The task gives candidates the context, who they are writing to, why they are writing, and four key content points.
- ▶ Candidates must include the four content points in a response of around 100 words.
- ▶ The task requires candidates to demonstrate the ability to handle the language of functions. For example, agreeing, disagreeing, giving an opinion, offering and explaining.

HOW TO APPROACH THE TASK

- ▶ Before candidates write their reply, they should make sure they are clear about who they are writing to, why they are writing and what they need to include in their reply.
- ▶ Candidates should read the email carefully and ensure they answer the four prompts.
- ▶ Candidates should not learn a pre-prepared answer, which may not fit the task in the exam.
- ▶ Candidates should practise planning their answers carefully before writing, to ensure answers are well organised and contain relevant content.
- ▶ Candidates should also practise writing timed answers within the recommended word length.
- ▶ It's a good idea for candidates to practise evaluating their own and others' answers, with close reference to the question. For example, they can look at sample answers or at each other's answers, identifying what the writer did well, and what they could improve in terms of organisation, language and communication.
- ▶ After writing, candidates should read through their answer to ensure that the meaning is clear and that they have included all the content points.

THE TASK

- ▶ Candidates choose either an article or a story. They must write around 100 words.
- ▶ For the article, candidates read an announcement from a magazine or website. This gives the topic that they must write about. For example, there may be a couple of questions that they should respond to.
- ▶ For the story, candidates are given the first sentence of the story. They must continue the story with clear links to the opening sentence.

HOW TO APPROACH THE TASK

- ▶ Candidates should practise planning their answers carefully before writing, to ensure answers are well organised and contain relevant content.
- ▶ Candidates should also practise writing timed answers within the recommended word length.
- ▶ It's a good idea for candidates to practise evaluating their own and others' answers, with close reference to the question. For example, they can look at sample answers or at each other's answers, identifying what the writer did well, and what they could improve in terms of organisation, language and communication.
- ▶ Candidates should choose the task which best suits them and their interests. They should consider the topic as well as the language demands, (e.g. vocabulary), in the two questions, before choosing.
- ▶ When writing the story, candidates should pay close attention to any names or pronouns used in the opening sentence, and ensure their stories follow the same pattern. For example, if the story begins in the third person, it should continue that way.

Assessment

Assessment scales

Tasks are marked using assessment scales that were developed with explicit reference to the Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR). The scales consist of four subscales: Content, Communicative Achievement, Organisation, and Language:

- Content focuses on how well the candidate has fulfilled the task, in other words if they have done what they were asked to do.
- Communicative Achievement focuses on how appropriate the writing is for the task and whether the candidate has used the appropriate register.
- Organisation focuses on the way the candidate puts together the piece of writing, in other words if it is logical and ordered.
- Language focuses on vocabulary and grammar. This includes the range of language as well as how accurate it is.

Responses are marked on each subscale from 0 to 5.

When the tasks are being marked, the length of responses and varieties of English are taken into account:

- Guidelines on length are provided for each task; responses which are too short may not have an adequate range of language and may not provide all the information that is required, while responses which are too long may contain irrelevant content and have a negative effect on the reader. These may affect candidates' marks on the relevant subscales.
- Candidates are expected to use a particular variety of English with some degree of consistency in areas such as spelling, and not, for example, switch from using a British spelling of a word to an American spelling of the same word.
- Candidates should also aim to use a range of tenses, expressions and vocabulary, even if these contain some minor mistakes. It's important for candidates to show the full range of their language ability and to be ambitious in their use of language.
- Non-impeding errors, which do not affect communication, will not necessarily be penalised. These include spelling, grammar or punctuation errors. However, errors which interfere with or cause a breakdown in communication will be treated more severely.

The subscale Content is common to all levels:

	CONTENT
5	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• All content is relevant to the task.• Target reader is fully informed.
3	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Minor irrelevances and/or omissions may be present.• Target reader is on the whole informed.
1	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Irrelevances and misinterpretation of task may be present.• Target reader is minimally informed.
0	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Content is totally irrelevant.• Target reader is not informed.

The remaining three subscales (Communicative Achievement, Organisation, and Language) have descriptors specific to each CEFR level:

CEFR LEVEL	COMMUNICATIVE ACHIEVEMENT	ORGANISATION	LANGUAGE
	Demonstrates complete command of the conventions of the communicative task. Communicates complex ideas in an effective and convincing way, holding the target reader's attention with ease, fulfilling all communicative purposes.	Text is organised impressively and coherently using a wide range of cohesive devices and organisational patterns with complete flexibility.	Uses a wide range of vocabulary, including less common lexis, with fluency, precision, sophistication and style. Use of grammar is sophisticated, fully controlled and completely natural. Any inaccuracies occur only as slips.

Writing mark scheme

Glossary of terms

1. General

Generally

Generally is a qualifier meaning not in every way or instance. Thus, generally appropriately refers to performance that is not as good as 'appropriately'.

Flexibility

Flexible and flexibly refer to the ability to adapt – whether language, organisational devices, or task conventions – rather than using the same form over and over, thus evidencing better control and a wider repertoire of the resource. Flexibility allows a candidate to better achieve communicative goals.

2. Content

Relevant

Relevant means related or relatable to required content points and/or task requirements.

Target reader

The target reader is the hypothetical reader set up in the task, e.g. a magazine's readership, your English teacher.

Informed

The target reader is informed if content points and/or task requirements are addressed and appropriately developed. Some content points do not require much development (e.g. state what is x) while others require it (describe, explain).

3. Communicative Achievement

Conventions of the communicative task

Conventions of the communicative task include such things as genre, format, register and function. For example, a personal letter should not be written as a formal report, should be laid out accordingly, and use the right tone for the communicative purpose.

Holding the target reader's attention

Holding the target reader's attention is used in the positive sense and refers to the quality of a text that allows a reader to derive meaning and not be distracted. It does not refer to texts that force a reader to read closely because they are difficult to follow or make sense of.

Communicative purpose

Communicative purpose refers to the communicative requirements as set out in the task, e.g. make a complaint, suggest alternatives.

Straightforward and complex ideas

Straightforward ideas are those which relate to relatively limited subject matter, usually concrete in nature, and which require simpler rhetorical devices to communicate. Complex ideas are those which are of a more abstract nature, or which cover a wider subject area, requiring more rhetorical resources to bring together and express.

4. Organisation

Linking words, cohesive devices and organisational patterns

Linking words are cohesive devices, but are separated here to refer to higher-frequency vocabulary which provides explicit linkage. They can range from basic high-frequency items (such as and, but) to basic and phrasal items (such as because, first of all, finally).

Cohesive devices refers to more sophisticated linking words and phrases (e.g. moreover, it may appear, as a result), as well as grammatical devices such as the use of reference pronouns, substitution (e.g. There are two women in the picture. The one on the right ...), ellipsis (e.g. The first car he owned was a convertible, or the second a family car), or repetition.

Organisational patterns refers to less-explicit ways of achieving connection at the between-sentence level and beyond, e.g. arranging sentences in climactic order, the use of parallelism, using a rhetorical question to set up a new paragraph.

5. Language

Vocabulary

Basic vocabulary refers to vocabulary used for survival purposes, for simple transactions, and the like.

Everyday vocabulary refers to vocabulary that comes up in common situations of a non-technical nature in the relevant domain.

Less common lexis refers to vocabulary items that appear less often in the relevant domain. These items often help to express ideas more succinctly and precisely.

Appropriacy of vocabulary

Appropriacy of vocabulary: the use of words and phrases that fit the context of the given task. For example, in I'm very sensible to noise, the word sensible is inappropriate as the word should be sensitive. Another example would be Today's big snow makes getting around the city difficult. The phrase getting around is well suited to this situation. However, big snow is inappropriate as big and snow are not used together. Heavy snow would be appropriate.

Grammatical forms

Simple grammatical forms: words, phrases, basic tenses and simple clauses.

Complex grammatical forms: longer and more complex items, e.g. noun clauses, relative and adverb clauses, subordination, passive forms, infinitives, verb patterns, modal forms and tense contrasts.

Grammatical control

Grammatical control: the ability to consistently use grammar accurately and appropriately to convey intended meaning.

Where language specifications are provided at lower levels (as in A2 Key and B1 Preliminary), candidates may have control of only the simplest exponents of the listed forms.

Range

Range: the variety of words and grammatical forms a candidate uses. At higher levels, candidates will make increasing use of a greater variety of words, fixed phrases, collocations and grammatical forms.

Overuse

Overuse refers to those cases where candidates repeatedly use the same word because they do not have the resources to use another term or phrase the same idea in another way. Some words may unavoidably appear often as a result of being the topic of the task; that is not covered by the term overuse here.

Errors and slips

Errors are systematic mistakes. Slips are mistakes that are non-systematic, i.e. the candidate has learned the vocabulary item or grammatical structure, but just happened to make a mistake in this instance. In a candidate's response, where most other examples of a lexical/grammatical point are accurate, a mistake on that point would most likely be a slip.

Impede communication

Impede communication means getting in the way of meaning. Meaning can still be determined indicates that some effort is required from the reader to determine meaning.

Part 1 – Email

Candidate A

I'm very nervous for this party, to celebrate the end of the school year.

I think that the best place to do the party is the class, because in this way we can be all together. In the class we can do a lot of activities like play with the blackboard, or watch a film, or listen to music.

About the food, we can have pizza, fries and for the sweet people chocolate, sweets or something like this.

I'm sure the party is going to be very well, and we are going to have a very good time.

See you soon!

Content	5	All content is relevant to the task. The target reader is fully informed about all the points in the task. The first point has been addressed, although the word nervous has been used incorrectly for this context. However, the rest of the email is positively phrased, so this can be seen as a slip. There is a preference expressed, (the class), and suggestions are given regarding activities, play with the blackboard , and food, pizza, fries; chocolate, sweets .
Communicative Achievement	3	The conventions of an email, such as a friendly, polite tone, and a consistent register, are used in generally appropriate ways to communicate straightforward ideas: I think that; About the food; I'm sure the party is going to be very well; See you soon . There is no opening salutation, but it is clearly directed towards Mrs Lake and the information is presented in a suitable format for a teacher to read.
Organisation	3	The text is connected and coherent. Paragraphs are used to good effect, each focusing on one aspect. The text is connected using linking words and some cohesive devices, such as referencing: this party; because in this way; About the food; and for the sweet people .
Language	3	Everyday vocabulary, suitable for the topic, is used generally appropriately: the best place; together; blackboard; pizza; fries; chocolate; sweets; good time . The use of nervous in the first sentence is slightly distracting as it does not convey the correct emotion. Simple grammatical forms are used with a good degree of control: I think that the best place to do the party; we can be all together; listen to music; something like this; is going to be; we are going to have a very good time . Errors are noticeable but meaning can still be determined: I am very nervous for; and for the sweet people; to be very well .

Part 1 – Email

Candidate B

Dear Mrs Lake,

I think it's a great idea to have a party to celebrate the end of the school year. I prefer to do the party at school, in the classroom, because we've spend a lot of time there, and I think it would be better, so that we can remember all the good things that have made this year so special. I think we could bring some games like domino, or one of us can bring his Play Station and we can play together. If you want, I will buy some pizza, and also something to drink like coca-cola or water. The other students will bring some potatoes, and the girls will make a cake. Do you like the idea?

See you!

Content	5	All content is relevant to the task. The target reader is fully informed about all the points in the task. There is a direct response to the first point, I think it's a great idea , and a clear preference is expressed for where the party should be held, in the classroom . Suggestions are made about the activities, some games like domino , and what food to bring, pizza; coca-cola; potatoes; cake .
Communicative Achievement	5	The conventions of an email, such as a friendly, enthusiastic tone, a consistent register, as well as appropriate opening and closing salutations, are used to hold the target reader's attention and to communicate straightforward ideas in response to the initial input text, Dear Mrs Lake; If you want; Do you like the idea? See you . Suggestions are made and supported with reasons to explain the decision taken, I prefer to do the party at school ... because we've spend a lot of time there .
Organisation	4	The text is generally well organised and coherent. Although there is only one paragraph, the text is connected through the use of a variety of linking words and cohesive devices, particularly referencing, which makes the text flow very naturally, a party; the party; at school, in the classroom, because; there, and I think it would be better; so that; the good things that; this year; like; one of us; also; other students .
Language	4	A range of everyday vocabulary, suitable for the topic, is used appropriately, remember; all the good things; special; bring some games; together; pizza . There are one or two errors, but they do not impede communication, we've spend; one of us can bring his Play Station .

Part 2 – Article

Candidate C

I love to watch comedies a lot because it makes me laugh. The comedy I love the most is the Chinese Running Man. I enjoy watching and laughing it with my family. In the show, famous actors and actresses must overcome some challenging quests, such as trading a coffee bean with someone else for something more expensive and racing in the mud to capture the flag. The storylines are very interesting and they always tickles my funny bone. Laughing out loud is great! Laughing can help us to release stress and make us feel better. It may also make us more attractive too!

Communicative Achievement	3	The conventions of article writing, such as sharing personal information and expressing opinions, are used generally appropriately to communicate straightforward ideas, I think it's good to laugh a lot; It's for this I laugh for anything . The article doesn't have a standard introduction, but the topic is generally introduced with a sentence about what the candidate does, So, I laugh always and for nothing .
Organisation	3	The text is connected and coherent. Paragraphs are used to separate the text into sections and, although these are often limited to one sentence, different ideas are expressed in each one, providing a structure to the text. Content	5	The story continues from the prompt, with a beginning, middle and end, and all the content is relevant. The target reader is fully informed.
Communicative Achievement	3	The story follows the conventions of storytelling in generally appropriate ways. The simple storyline is communicated to the reader, despite errors and weak organisation.
Organisation	2	The text is connected using a limited number of linking words (and; But; from that day). Although the majority of sentences are short and there is limited linking across sentences, the story is coherent.
Language	3	Everyday vocabulary is used generally appropriately. There is some evidence of less common lexis appropriate to the story (mushroomes and berries; found away; unknowns places). Spelling errors generally do not cause confusion, with the exception of could for cold and plantes for planes . Simple grammatical forms (mainly simple past tense) are used with a good degree of control. While errors are noticeable, the meaning can still be determined.

Preparing learners

Advice for teachers

The texts and tasks in the Listening paper reflect the variety of listening situations which learners at B1 level are expected to deal with. Teachers should ensure that learners are exposed to a range of listening situations and interactions.

The texts may include:

- conversations at home or between friends (Parts 1, 2)
- radio announcements (Parts 1, 3)
- parts of talks (Part 3)
- exchanges in shops (Part 1)
- informational talks or radio programmes (Part 3)
- interviews with questions from a radio presenter (Part 4)
- recorded messages (Parts 1, 3).

Also note the following:

- The recordings will contain a range of standard native-speaker accents. Learners should practise listening to a variety of accents.
- When selecting listening material, teachers can use the topics list to help them identify suitable topics to use with learners.
- Teachers may find that the Inventory of functions, notions and communicative tasks in the language specifications helps them to identify different listening situations for learners to work with.
- Free teaching resources and lesson plans are available on the Cambridge English website.

Parents can get more information from the Information for parents page on the Cambridge English website.

Learners can get more information from the Information for candidates guide.

Teachers can find lesson plans and sample papers on the Cambridge English website.

Tips for preparing learners for the Listening paper

- ✓ Help learners identify and understand the type of text they are listening to. They should also identify the purpose of the task that they have to do. Together, these activities will help them to choose the most appropriate listening strategies for the tasks in the exam.
- ✓ Use classroom discussion activities and listening to the teacher to help develop listening skills. However, learners must also listen to a range of recordings to prepare for the content of the exam.
- ✓ Make sure learners read the instructions on the question paper, and listen to them on the recording so they are completely clear about what they have to do.
- ✓ All the texts in the exam are heard twice. Remind learners to use both listenings to refine their answers.
- ✓ Use the transcript of the recording once learners have completed a task. It can be useful to look at it to identify key phrases, cues, distraction, etc.
- ✓ Encourage learners not to leave blank spaces. They won't lose marks for a wrong answer. Ask learners to check they have an answer, as they might have understood more than they think.
- ✓ Practise different types of listening to develop your learners' listening skills. Testing should not be the only focus.

Completing the digital test (digital test only)

- Candidates mark or type all their answers directly onto the computer.
- Candidates may take pens and pencils and water in a clear, see-through bottle into the exam room, but nothing else (including bags and anything electronic).
- Candidates should listen carefully to the instructions which the invigilator gives and follow the instructions on the computer screen.
- Candidates should check that they can hear the test properly. If they cannot hear the recording, they should raise their hand and inform the invigilator immediately.
- There is a timer on the screen which tells candidates how much time they have left.
- Candidates may make notes on paper during the exam, for example if they want to write down two alternative answers where they are unsure. They must leave these notes on their desk at the end of the exam.

Completing the answer sheet (paper-based test only)

- Candidates doing the paper-based test should practise transferring their answers to the answer sheet.
- All answers must go on an answer sheet.
- Candidates should write their answers on the question paper as they listen.
- Candidates then have 6 minutes at the end of the test to copy these answers onto the answer sheet.
- Candidates should use a pencil to complete the answer sheet.
- For Parts 1, 2 and 4, candidates shade a lozenge on the answer sheet to show their answer.
- For Part 3, candidates write their answers on the answer sheet.

Cambridge Assessment English, Preliminary English Test for Schools, Listening, Sample test.

There are four parts to the test. You will hear each part twice.

We will now stop for a moment.

Please ask any questions now, because you must not speak during the test.

Now look at the instructions for Part 1.

For each question, choose the correct answer.

Look at Question 1.

1: What will the boy bring for the barbecue?

M: Hi, it's Jack. Just phoning to see if I should bring anything for the barbecue? Mum's got some chicken she says we can have.

F: Chicken's everyone's favourite, so we've got loads thanks.

M: I could bring some burgers.

F: Well, Anna's made about twenty.

M: Oh, that'll be plenty.

F: How about some sausages?

M: Hold on, I'll just look in the fridge ... ah, there aren't any left.

F: Well, don't worry. We've probably got enough here.

M: I could pick some up on my way over. It's no trouble.

F: Well if you don't mind.

M: Sure, no problem.

Now listen again.

2: Which part of the boy's body hurts now?

F: How are you?

M: I was walking on the ice last week, and I wasn't really concentrating because I had a terrible headache. Anyway, I slipped and fell and I landed on my shoulder. At the time when I fell, my shoulder really hurt but that pain soon wore off. I think maybe I damaged something a bit more serious in my ankle though. I'm going to get my ankle checked at the doctor's, because the pain still hasn't gone.

Now listen again.

3: What will the visitors see last?

F: Now, everyone, follow me into the museum. This room is where the ancient jewellery's displayed – some fantastic pieces here – and next door are paintings of rock stars by the artist Ben Soper. We'll visit that at the end of the tour, for the talk I'm going to give you about them. But before that, I'll take you into the garden where you can have a look at the old racing car we've got there! It was generously given to us by a famous racing team when the museum was built ...

Now listen again.

4: Where did the police catch the zebra?

And finally we have a story about a zebra, which escaped from the local zoo this morning. Surprised motorists saw the animal walking down the side of the road during rush hour and reported it to the police, who followed it as it walked right through a shopping centre and on down to the river. They succeeded in catching it when it stopped to eat some grass. The zebra is now back in the zoo, and doesn't seem at all worried by its trip into town and the busy traffic it saw.

Now listen again.

5: What did the girl do yesterday?

M: Did you have a good weekend?

F: Yes, I went out with a couple of friends yesterday.

M: Where did you go?

F: Well, they wanted either to see a movie or to go swimming. I said I'd rather go to the science museum, but they weren't so keen on the idea. Anyway we tried to get into the pool, but there was a big swimming competition going on there, and by that time the film had already started. So I got what I wanted in the end – and it was fun actually.

Now listen again.

6: Which computer game does the girl like most?

F: Okay here are this week's new computer games. Dance Moves teaches you how to dance. There's a great range of moves and a great choice of four classic hits from the last five years. The only problem is knowing when to quit. Pet Project has a choice of baby zoo animals to care for. Although they're super cute, you'll quickly feel as though you've seen it all before. The last game is Cooking Star, it seems a nice choice for anyone who's passionate about food, but imaginary food has a limited attraction.

Now listen again.

7: Which sport did the boy do for the first time on holiday?

F: Hi Pat, how was the holiday at the watersports centre? Did you do lots of sailing?

M: I did yeah. I'm pleased I did a course last year ... it meant I could go straight out on the water. And I was able to try windsurfing too. It's actually quite easy if you've already sailed. I just had to learn how to keep my balance.

F: Did you do any other sports?

M: Yeah, water skiing. My little brother was old enough to do it too this time, so he was really happy about that!

F: Great.

Now listen again.

That is the end of Part 1.

Now look at Part 2.

For each question, choose the correct answer.

8: You will hear two friends talking about a campsite they have been to.

M: So, how did you like the campsite?

- F: Brilliant! Thanks for telling my dad about it! It's got everything – shops, swimming pool, games room. And a beautiful beach five minutes away.
- M: I knew you'd love that. The pool's good enough for me. I had the best time ever – so much to do!
- F: When we first got there, I felt a bit lost. But then I started hanging out with loads of other teenagers.
- M: That's why I'd go back any day – in other camps you don't get that sort of crowd. I remember one where it was mostly families with little kids.
- F: I know what you mean.

Now listen again.

9: You will hear two friends talking about homework.

- M: I've got a friend who wants us to do homework together. I'm not sure it's a good idea.
- F: Well, I've tried it and it works for me, depending on the subject. But if it's something you really need to concentrate on, then you're better off on your own.
- M: I suppose it would make it less boring, having a few laughs and some jokes here and there ...
- F: That's exactly it, and you can do it in half the time it takes you on your own, because you're helping each other.

Now listen again.

10: You will hear a boy telling his friend about a rock-climbing trip.

- F: So, how did your rock-climbing trip go?
- M: It was harder than I expected. It's all very well climbing on an indoor climbing wall. I've always been pretty pleased with the way I've climbed there. But out on real rocks in the hills, it's a lot scarier. You need to have someone with you who's got a lot of experience, who can tell you what to do or give advice.
- F: I can imagine.
- M: I'm looking forward to having another try, though. But next time I'll tell whoever I'm with that I need support.

Now listen again.

11: You will hear two friends talking about learning to play the guitar.

- M: Wow, it's so hard to get any better at the guitar. It feels like I'm not making any progress.
- F: Well, you seem to spend a lot of time practising. I don't see how you could do much more. Don't you think it's better to focus on one type of music rather than on lots of different types?
- M: I don't know. Maybe it's good to go for lots of different ones.
- F: Well, anyway, you ought to pay attention to the really top players. They've been along the same path that you're on. Just notice how they do things.
- M: I think I do that already really.

Now listen again.

12: You will hear two friends talking about a book they've read.

- M: I've just finished reading that book. It's brilliant – so much happens. It's exciting all the way through.

- F: Yeah, though it does get slower in the middle, when the hero Alan is trying to decide whether to tell his mum about the baby lion he found. Alan's personality seems really true to life, and so does his mum's – like the way she reacts when he tells her all about it.
- M: I know what you mean – it reminds me of my mum and me. I never thought she'd let him keep the lion though. That was a nice surprise.
- F: I kind of thought that might happen actually.

Now listen again.

13: You will hear two friends talking about a concert they've been to.

- F: What a great concert. I listen to that band a lot, but I'd never seen them live before.
- M: Me neither. But why didn't they play their greatest hits, especially if you think what we paid to get in.
- F: I liked what they did, though. As for the price, it was definitely more than I'd normally be willing to pay.
- M: And the organisers didn't do a very good job. It was awful waiting so long for the main act to start.
- F: Don't blame the organisers. It's simply that the band hadn't arrived. There was nothing they could do about that.

Now listen again.

That is the end of Part 2.

Now look at Part 3.

For each question, write the correct answer in the gap. Write one or two words or a number or a date or a time. Look at Questions 14–19 now. You have 20 seconds.

You will hear a man called Phil Lamb telling a group of students about his work as a TV news presenter.

Hi, many thanks for inviting me. I've been a TV news presenter for four years now. I did a couple of other jobs after university, first in radio in my home city and then as a journalist on a magazine. I enjoyed both jobs very much.

I present the five o'clock evening news. There's a lot of preparation to do before I start. First I get the newspapers and go through each one carefully. That way I understand what's in the news reports I have to present that day. Then I have meetings with the editor of the news programme in the TV studio.

After that I have to spend a bit of time choosing the right jacket to put on! I think it's really important, because that's what you see when I'm sitting at my desk, reading the news. But at least I don't need to worry about my trousers or my shoes as no-one gets to look at those!

What do I find particularly difficult? Well, I sometimes say things wrongly! I don't often make mistakes with the names of cities or countries, whatever the language, but it's names of people which I sometimes find a real challenge to get exactly right!

Now, I can't choose what news to present of course! But I do have my favourite topic. I really enjoy business, so reading news about that is always interesting to me. For some of my colleagues, the most interesting subject is politics or even fashion. We're all different!

What about the future? I've been told I could make a good actor. I've never been attracted by that, though. As a teenager, I always dreamt of becoming a producer. I still think it would be exciting if I get the chance. Maybe I'll do that one day.

Now, any questions ... (fade)

Now listen again.

That is the end of Part 3.

Now look at Part 4.

For each question, choose the correct answer. Look at questions 20–25 now. You have 45 seconds.

You will hear a radio interview with a young singer called Mandy.

Int: Hi Mandy. You started off as a successful disc jockey and now you're a singer in a great new band! When did you get your first job as a DJ?

Mandy: Well, when I finished school, I trained as a nurse for a year, but I wasn't very good at that. I'd always loved music, and I wanted to save money to buy equipment, so I started looking after elderly people. As soon as I had enough, I bought what I needed. I got my first job as a disc jockey almost immediately.

Int: But then you started singing instead. How did that happen?

Mandy: Well, I'd been a disc jockey for about four years, then last year, I read about a DJ competition in Ireland and I entered. I did some live singing on stage that night and one of the judges asked me if I'd be interested in singing professionally. I was very lucky, really.

Int: So now you're in a band called 'Dish'. Tell us about your new record, the one that's in the shops now ...

Mandy: Yes. It's called 'Up and Down'. It's about a girl who is never really happy with her life. She's always up and down, wanting too much and never being satisfied. I'm not that kind of person fortunately, nor are my friends! It does have a nice ending.

Int: And you're working on a new CD?

Mandy: Yes, but we haven't finished recording that yet. There are still two more songs to do but I'm very proud of it. It's traditional rock but we've included some electronic music too to make it really unusual. I just hope the public will buy it! We think it's great!

Int: And what kind of music do you listen to at home?

Mandy: That's difficult. The music I like best has words that mean something to me, I suppose. I love dance music too, but you can't listen to it all the time and I generally prefer female artists to male, I think too. But that depends on the singer.

Int: And your future plans?

Mandy: Oh! I've got so much work to do at the moment – television performances and concerts, it's hard to plan. But I'd really like to own a nightclub one day ... somewhere great to dance, so that's my next project. One day, perhaps I'll try to learn to play the guitar – that would be nice – but I'm too busy to think about it at the moment. I can write and sing, that's what I do best.

Int: Well, lots of luck with your new CD and thanks for coming.

Mandy: You're welcome!

Now listen again.

Now you'll hear Part 4 again.

That is the end of Part 4.

You now have 6 minutes to write your answers on the answer sheet.

You have one more minute.

That is the end of the test.

Preparing learners

Advice for teachers

- The standard format for the Speaking test is two candidates and two examiners.
- One examiner is the interlocutor, who manages the interaction and speaks directly with the candidates. The interlocutor sets up the tasks and gives the candidates their instructions.
- The other examiner is the assessor, who does not join in the conversation, but assesses the candidates' performances.

- Candidates are usually assessed in pairs and occasionally in groups of three. When there are three candidates, the test format is unchanged but the timing will be longer: 15–17 minutes instead of 10–12 minutes. Examiners are trained to ensure each candidate has the same opportunity to speak whether they are in pairs or in groups of three.
- There are a number of packs of materials from which examiners can choose tasks in any one session.
- When selecting topics and resources for speaking practice, teachers can use the topics list to help them identify suitable topics to use with learners.
- Free teaching resources and lesson plans are available on the Cambridge English website.

Parents can get more information from the Information for parents page on the Cambridge English website.

Learners can get more information from the Information for candidates guide.

Teachers can find lesson plans and sample papers on the Cambridge English website.

Tips for preparing learners for the Speaking paper

- ✓ Give your learners practice speaking English in a range of contexts and, as much as possible, with a range of different people. These can be simulated through classroom activities, e.g. role plays.
- ✓ Use classroom activities which focus on listening and responding to questions, expanding answers and helping to keep a conversation going.
- ✓ Watch videos of sample candidates, and do 'mock tests' to help your learners become very familiar with the format of the Speaking test.
- ✓ If learners have any difficulty in understanding an instruction or response, they should ask the interlocutor or their partner to repeat what they said. This will not normally result in any loss of marks.
- ✓ Give your learners practice talking about a picture for a minute – they can record and listen to themselves to see how well they are doing and what they need to improve. Make sure they know how to describe things well.
- ✓ Encourage learners not to learn set pieces for the exam. These will sound unnatural and probably won't answer the specific questions asked.

THE TASK

- ▶ In Part 1, the interlocutor leads a general conversation with each of the candidates.
- ▶ The interlocutor asks questions about their personal details, daily routines, likes, dislikes, etc.
- ▶ The interlocutor speaks to the candidates in turn.
- ▶ Candidates respond directly to the interlocutor – they do not talk to each other in this task.
- ▶ This part of the test assesses the candidates' ability to take part in spontaneous communication in an everyday setting.

HOW TO APPROACH THE TASK

- ▶ It's normal for candidates to feel nervous at the beginning of the Speaking test. This conversation uses everyday, simple language and so is designed to help to settle them into the test.
- ▶ Candidates should listen carefully to the questions and give relevant answers.
- ▶ Candidates should avoid giving one-word answers, but try to extend their answers with reasons and examples wherever possible. However, they are not expected to give very long answers at this stage.

Speaking Part 2

Speaking Test 1	Part 2 (2–3 minutes)

Interlocutor	Thank you. (Can I have the booklet please?) Retrieve Part 2 booklet.

THE TASK

- ▶ In Part 2, the interlocutor instructs each candidate in turn.
- ▶ The candidates take turns to speak for about 1 minute each.
- ▶ Each candidate is given one colour photograph to describe. The photographs show everyday situations which are relevant to the age group.
- ▶ The candidates describe what they can see in their photograph.
- ▶ When they have finished, they give their photograph back to the interlocutor.
- ▶ All criteria are assessed in this part of the test.

HOW TO APPROACH THE TASK

- ▶ Candidates should keep their descriptions simple, and should not speculate about the context or talk about any wider issues raised by the photographs.
- ▶ Candidates should use this part of the test to show their range of vocabulary.
- ▶ Candidates should describe the people and activities in the photographs as fully as possible. They should imagine they are describing the photograph to someone who can't see it. This may include naming all the objects, describing colours, clothing, time of day, weather, etc.
- ▶ Candidates can also show their ability to organise their language using simple connectives.
- ▶ If candidates can't recall a certain word, they will be given credit if they can use paraphrase or other strategies to deal with items of vocabulary that they don't know or can't remember.

Speaking Part 3

Speaking Test 1 (School visit to a capital city)

Parts 3 and 4 (6 minutes)

Part 3

Interlocutor Now, in this part of the test you're going to talk about something together for about two minutes. I'm going to describe a situation to you.

Place Part 3 booklet, open at Task 1, in front of the candidates.

Some students from a small village school are going on a trip to their capital city.

Here are some activities they could do there.

Talk together about the different activities they could do in their capital city, and say which would be most interesting.

All right? Now, talk together.

Candidates

approx. 2-3 minutes

Interlocutor Thank you. (Can I have the booklet please?) Retrieve Part 3 booklet.

THE TASK

- ▶ In Part 3, the interlocutor sets up the task, but does not take part in the interaction.
- ▶ The interlocutor reads the instructions once, setting up the situation, while the candidates look at the prompt material. The prompt material is a set of images which is designed to generate the candidates' own ideas about an imaginary situation.
- ▶ The candidates discuss their ideas together, making and responding to suggestions, discussing alternatives, making recommendations and negotiating agreement.
- ▶ Candidates may bring in their own ideas, and should negotiate turns and elicit each other's ideas.
- ▶ The interlocutor will allow candidates time to discuss the task. The whole task takes 4 minutes.
- ▶ If the interaction breaks down, the interlocutor will help to redirect the candidates but will not take part in the task itself.
- ▶ Candidates are assessed on their use of appropriate language and interactive strategies, not on their ideas.

HOW TO APPROACH THE TASK

- ▶ Candidates should concentrate on taking part fully in the task, rather than completing it. They are assessed on their use of appropriate language and interactive strategies, not their ideas.
- ▶ Candidates should respond to each other's ideas and move the discussion forward by, for example, giving their opinion on their partner's idea or asking a question.
- ▶ Candidates should discuss all the visual prompts, and not try to come to a conclusion too quickly. If they do this, they will not give themselves the opportunity to show their full range of language ability.
- ▶ Candidates should not worry if the interlocutor stops them before they have reached a conclusion. This is because they have filled the allocated time. They are not assessed on whether they complete the task.

Speaking Part 4

Part 4 Interlocutor Use the following questions, as appropriate: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Would you like to have more school trips? (Where would you like to go?) • What do you need to take when you go on a trip? • Do you prefer to go on trips with your friends or your family? (Why?) • What do you think is the best time of year to visit a city? (Why?) • Which do you think is more interesting: visiting the countryside or visiting a city? (Why?) Thank you. THE TASK

- ▶ In Part 4, the interlocutor directs the interaction by asking questions which encourage the candidates to discuss further and broaden the topic introduced in Part 3.
- ▶ The questions will focus on candidates' likes/dislikes, habits and opinions.
- ▶ The questions can be addressed to one or both candidates sequentially or simultaneously.
- ▶ The candidates are expected to respond either individually or interact with each other.
- ▶ This part lasts for about 3 minutes in total.
- ▶ All criteria are assessed in this part of the test.

HOW TO APPROACH THE TASK

- ▶ Candidates should listen carefully to the questions and give their answers.
- ▶ Candidates are encouraged to talk about their personal experiences, express their own likes and dislikes, and share their opinions in this part of the test.
- ▶ Candidates are encouraged to give full answers to the questions asked. They can do this by keeping useful question words in their heads, e.g. Why...? This will allow candidates to give full contributions. The interlocutor will often ask this question if candidates fail to give more than a minimal response.
- ▶ Candidates should remember that there are no right answers to the questions and they will not be judged on their opinions, only on the language they use to express themselves.

Assessment

Examiners and marking

The quality assurance of Speaking Examiners (SEs) is managed by Team Leaders (TLs). TLs ensure all examiners successfully complete examiner training and regular certification of procedure and assessment before they examine. TLs are in turn responsible to a Professional Support Leader (PSL) who is the professional representative of Cambridge Assessment English for the Speaking tests in a given country or region.

Annual examiner certification involves attendance at a face-to-face meeting to focus on and discuss assessment and procedure, followed by the marking of sample Speaking tests in an online environment. Examiners must complete standardisation of assessment for all relevant levels each year and are regularly monitored during live testing sessions.

Assessment scales

Throughout the test candidates are assessed on their own individual performance and not in relation to each other. They are awarded marks by two examiners: the assessor and the interlocutor. The assessor awards marks by applying performance descriptors from the analytical assessment scales for the following criteria:

- Grammar and Vocabulary
- Discourse Management
- Pronunciation
- Interactive Communication.

The interlocutor awards a mark for global achievement using the global achievement scale.

B1	GLOBAL ACHIEVEMENT
5	Handles communication on familiar topics, despite some hesitation. Organises extended discourse but occasionally produces utterances that lack coherence, and some inaccuracies and inappropriate usage occur.
4	Performance shares features of Bands 3 and 5.
3	Handles communication in everyday situations, despite hesitation. Constructs longer utterances but is not able to use complex language except in well-rehearsed utterances.
2	Performance shares features of Bands 1 and 3.
1	Conveys basic meaning in very familiar everyday situations. Produces utterances which tend to be very short – words or phrases – with frequent hesitation and pauses.
0	Performance below Band 1.

Assessment for B1 Preliminary for Schools is based on performance across all parts of the test, and is achieved by applying the relevant descriptors in the assessment scales. The assessment scales for B1 Preliminary for Schools (shown on the next page) are extracted from the overall Speaking scales on page 65.

B1 Preliminary Speaking Examiners use a more detailed version of the following assessment scales, extracted from the overall Speaking scales on page 65:

B1	GRAMMAR AND VOCABULARY	DISCOURSE MANAGEMENT	PRONUNCIATION	INTERACTIVE COMMUNICATION
5	Shows a good degree of control of simple grammatical forms, and attempts some complex grammatical forms. Uses a range of appropriate vocabulary to give and exchange views on familiar topics.	Produces extended stretches of language despite some hesitation. Contributions are relevant despite some repetition. Uses a range of cohesive devices.	Is intelligible. Intonation is generally appropriate. Sentence and word stress is generally accurately placed. Individual sounds are generally articulated clearly.	Initiates and responds appropriately. Maintains and develops the interaction and negotiates towards an outcome with very little support.
4	Performance shares features of Bands 3 and 5.
3	Shows a good degree of control of simple grammatical forms. Uses a range of appropriate vocabulary when talking about familiar topics.	Produces responses which are extended beyond short phrases, despite hesitation. Contributions are mostly relevant, but there may be some repetition. Uses basic cohesive devices.	Is mostly intelligible, and has some control of phonological features at both utterance and word levels.	Initiates and responds appropriately. Keeps the interaction going with very little prompting and support.
2	Performance shares features of Bands 1 and 3.
1	Shows sufficient control of simple grammatical forms. Uses a limited range of appropriate vocabulary to talk about familiar topics.	Produces responses which are characterised by short phrases and frequent hesitation. Repeats information or digresses from the topic.	Is mostly intelligible, despite limited control of phonological features.	Maintains simple exchanges, despite some difficulty. Requires prompting and support.
0	Performance below Band 1.

Speaking assessment

Glossary of terms

1. General

Conveying basic meaning

Conveying basic meaning: the ability of candidates to get their message across to their listeners, despite possible inaccuracies in the structure and/or delivery of the message.

Situations and topics

Everyday situations: situations that candidates come across in their everyday lives, e.g. having a meal, asking for information, shopping, going out with friends or family, travelling to work, taking part in leisure activities. An A2 Key for Schools task that requires candidates to exchange details about a store's opening hours exemplifies an everyday situation.

Familiar topics: topics about which candidates can be expected to have some knowledge or personal experience. B2 First tasks that require candidates to talk about what people like to do on holiday, or what it is like to do different jobs, exemplify familiar topics.

Unfamiliar topics: topics which candidates would not be expected to have much personal experience of. C1 Advanced tasks that require candidates to speculate about whether people in the world today only care about themselves, or the kinds of problems that having a lot of money can cause, exemplify unfamiliar topics.

Abstract topics: topics which include ideas rather than concrete situations or events. C2 Proficiency tasks that require candidates to discuss how far the development of our civilisation has been affected by chance discoveries or events, or the impact of writing on society, exemplify abstract topics.

Utterance

Utterance: people generally write in sentences and they speak in utterances. An utterance may be as short as a word or phrase, or a longer stretch of language.

2. Grammar and Vocabulary

Appropriacy of vocabulary

Appropriacy of vocabulary: the use of words and phrases that fit the context of the given task. For example, in the utterance I'm very sensible to noise, the word sensible is inappropriate as the word should be sensitive. Another example would be Today's big snow makes getting around the city difficult. The phrase getting around is well suited to this situation. However, big snow is inappropriate as big and snow are not used together. Heavy snow would be appropriate.

Flexibility

Flexibility: the ability of candidates to adapt the language they use in order to give emphasis, to differentiate according to the context, and to eliminate ambiguity. Examples of this would be reformulating and paraphrasing ideas.

Grammatical control

Grammatical control: the ability to consistently use grammar accurately and appropriately to convey intended meaning.

Where language specifications are provided at lower levels (as in A2 Key for Schools and B1 Preliminary), candidates may have control of only the simplest exponents of the listed forms.

Attempts at control: sporadic and inconsistent use of accurate and appropriate grammatical forms. For example, the inconsistent use of one form in terms of structure or meaning; the production of one part of a complex form incorrectly; or the use of some complex forms correctly and some incorrectly.

Spoken language often involves false starts, incomplete utterances, ellipsis and reformulation. Where communication is achieved, such features are not penalised.

Grammatical forms

Simple grammatical forms: words, phrases, basic tenses and simple clauses.

Complex grammatical forms: longer and more complex utterances, e.g. noun clauses, relative and adverb clauses, subordination, passive forms, infinitives, verb patterns, modal forms and tense contrasts.

Range

Range: the variety of words and grammatical forms a candidate uses. At higher levels, candidates will make increasing use of a greater variety of words, fixed phrases, collocations and grammatical forms.

3. Discourse Management

Coherence and cohesion

Coherence and cohesion are difficult to separate in discourse. Broadly speaking, coherence refers to a clear and logical stretch of speech which can be easily followed by a listener. Cohesion refers to a stretch of speech which is unified and structurally organised.

Coherence and cohesion can be achieved in a variety of ways, including with the use of cohesive devices, related vocabulary, grammar and discourse markers.

Cohesive devices: words or phrases which indicate relationships between utterances, e.g. addition (and, in addition, moreover); consequence (so, therefore, as a result); order of information (first, second, next, finally).

At higher levels, candidates should be able to provide cohesion not just with basic cohesive devices (e.g. and, but, or, then, finally) but also with more sophisticated devices (e.g. therefore, moreover, as a result, in addition, however, on the other hand).

Related vocabulary: the use of several items from the same lexical set, e.g. train, station, platform, carriage; or study, learn, revise.

Grammatical devices: essentially the use of reference pronouns (e.g. it, this, one) and articles (e.g. There are two women in the picture. The one on the right ...).

Discourse markers: words or phrases which are primarily used in spoken language to add meaning to the interaction, e.g. you know, you see, actually, basically, I mean, well, anyway, like.

Extent/extended stretches of language

Extent/extended stretches of language: the amount of language produced by a candidate which should be appropriate to the task. Long-turn tasks require longer stretches of language, whereas tasks which involve discussion or answering questions could require shorter and extended responses.

Relevance

Relevance: a contribution that is related to the task and not about something completely different.

Repetition

Repetition: repeating the same idea instead of introducing new ideas to develop the topic.

4. Pronunciation

Intelligible

Intelligible: a contribution which can generally be understood by a non-EFL/ESOL specialist, even if the speaker has a strong or unfamiliar accent.

Phonological features

Phonological features include the pronunciation of individual sounds, word and sentence stress and intonation.

Individual sounds are:

pronounced vowels, e.g. the /æ/ in cat or the /e/ in bed
 diphthongs, when two vowels are rolled together to produce one sound, e.g. the /əʊ/ in host or the /eɪ/ in hate consonants, e.g. the /k/ in cut or the /f/ in fish.

Stress: the emphasis laid on a syllable or word. Words of two or more syllables have one syllable which stands out from the rest because it is pronounced more loudly and clearly, and is longer than the others, e.g. imPORTant. Word stress can also distinguish between words, e.g. proTEST vs PROtest. In sentences, stress can be used to indicate important meaning, e.g. WHY is that one important? versus Why is THAT one important?

Intonation: the way the voice rises and falls, e.g. to convey the speaker's mood, to support meaning or to indicate new information.

5. Interactive Communication

Development of the interaction

Development of the interaction: actively developing the conversation, e.g. by saying more than the minimum in response to the written or visual stimulus or to something the other candidate/interlocutor has said; or by proactively involving the other candidate with a suggestion or question about further developing the topic (e.g. What about bringing a camera for the holiday? or Why's that?).

Initiating and responding

Initiating: starting a new turn by introducing a new idea or a new development of the current topic.

Responding: replying or reacting to what the other candidate or the interlocutor has said.

Prompting and supporting

Prompting: instances when the interlocutor repeats, or uses a backup prompt or gesture in order to get the candidate to respond or make a further contribution.

Supporting: instances when one candidate helps another candidate, e.g. by providing a word they are looking for during a discussion activity, or helping them develop an idea.

Turn and simple exchange

Turn: everything a person says before someone else speaks.

Simple exchange: a brief interaction which typically involves two turns in the form of an initiation and a response, e.g. question–answer, suggestion–agreement.

Language specifications

Candidates who are successful in B1 Preliminary for Schools should be able to communicate satisfactorily in most everyday situations with both native and non-native speakers of English.

The following is a list of the language specifications that the B1 Preliminary for Schools examination is based on.

Lexis

The B1 Preliminary and B1 Preliminary for Schools examinations include items which normally occur in the everyday vocabulary of native speakers using English today.

Candidates should know the lexis appropriate to their personal requirements, for example, nationalities, hobbies, likes and dislikes.

Note that the consistent use of American pronunciation, spelling and lexis is acceptable in B1 Preliminary and B1 Preliminary for Schools.

A list of vocabulary that could appear in the B1 Preliminary and B1 Preliminary for Schools examinations is available on our website:

cambridgeenglish.org/exams/preliminary-for-schools/preparation

The list does not provide an exhaustive list of all the words which appear in B1 Preliminary and B1 Preliminary for Schools question papers, and candidates should not confine their study of vocabulary to the list alone.

International English

English is used in a wide range of international contexts. To reflect this, candidates' responses to tasks in Cambridge English Qualifications are acceptable in all varieties and accents of English, provided they do not interfere with communication. Materials used feature a range of accents and texts from English-speaking countries, including the UK, North America and Australia. US and other versions of spelling are accepted if used consistently.
